Dear Flower Friends: TO YOU ALL that sent seeds a BIG GRATIFYING THANKS FOR SUCH WONDERFUL CO-OPERATION: Since so much of the Country had dry summers many had none to send so that means EVERYONE ELSE must cooperate to keep things humming. EVERYONE wishes they could thank each and everyone in person but we all take this way to tell our appreciation.

SUBSCRIBERS may still obtain seeds for 10-35¢ or choice 8 for 50¢ as NON-SUBSCRIBERS prices now given. Be sure your name and address are on inside and OUTSIDE of envelope. If you do not receive your order within 3 weeks write GARDENERS CO-OP. Gift packets cannot be exchanged. No stamps over 3¢ denomination. Rush orders 25¢ extra. Give old addresses along with new. Wrap any money in old envelope. Thanks for lovely cards, letters, etc. Sincerely, M.H.

Planning Flower Gardens

Now it is Garden Planning time again. Did you ever try grouping common flowers according to colors to enhance their effect? Forgetmenots bordering the rose bed sets off their harmonious colors. Red foliage plant and blue Anchusa make colorful background for Balsam and Clarkia reds interspersed with blues of Canterbury Bells or, Larkspur, or Cynoglossum. Or Canterbury bells blues with reds of Sw. Williams makes a lovely spot of color. Or the bright blue of bush annual Morning glory against beds of Godetia or Petunia pinks backed by the blue and white of Aconitum and Rose Rudebeckia, or Pink Phlox, Yellow Anthemis and white of Early Shasta Daisy trim a dry corner. Or Dwarf lavender Asters in front of Calendulas or Coreopsis or Calliopsis show to good effect backed by the lavender of Phlox and tall yellow Helioopsis. Yellow Doronicums and lavender Anemone Pul. in front of lavender and purple lilacs made an outstanding picture. The trick is to place the flowers in color harmony that bloom at the same times. Each locality has its different times for flower blooming-plant yours accordingly. J. Muench, Ohio.

"Enclosed is my subscription for 3 years. Thanks so much for the helpful Co-op and seeds for us flower lovers that don't have money for expensive things. May the Co-op always prosper. Your flower friend, M. Fisher, Maine."

"I think the Cooperative is such a wonderful way to give everyone a chance to have such lovely flowers. Thanks so much. E. Babcock, Wash."

"I get seven catalogues and none of them begin to list the lovely varieties of seed that the Co-op has. Mostly they list only old easy to grow standbys. I have bought seed from the Co-op so long that I never have heard of before, nor seen and they are such lovely flowers when they bloom I just love them and the Co-op. Your flower friend. Mrs O. Gains, Kansas"
